

Scott County Humane Society's Annual Fur Ball Castle Post in Versailles, KY

A CASE STUDY

A Furry Problem

Bow Wow Meow Luau was the theme at the Second Annual Fur Ball held by the Scott County Humane Society at Castle Post in Versailles, KY to raise money for adoption, spay-neuter and other programs. Events are held throughout the summer at Castle Post, regardless of hot summer temperatures and the Fur Ball was no exception. A quiet, efficient, mobile air movement solution was needed for guests and pets to be cool and comfortable at this tropical affair.

An Outdoor Solution

With its "wedding white" colored exterior, the AirGo™ fan by Big Ass Fans® was added to the guest list for its quiet operation, sleek look, cooling breezes, maneuverability and outdoor capabilities. This eight foot diameter mobile fan provides non-disruptive air movement up to 140 feet - that's half the length of a football field and three times more airflow than a 34 inch high velocity fan.

The Coolest Results

AirGo provides quiet comfort allowing guests and their pets to enjoy activities without noise or hot temperatures getting in the way. Its rough terrain maneuvering makes AirGo the perfect solution for any outdoor event. Guests at the Fur Ball were provided with consistent, cooling breezes making AirGo the "coolest" and most popular party guest on the list.

"Guests were kept comfortable throughout the entire event thanks to the fan. We had the best live auction ever! I would highly recommend Big Ass Fans to anyone planning an outdoor party or event in need. The fan was truly a life-saver!"
